Father's Corner

Whoever has seen me has seen the Father. The Father who dwells in me is doing his works.

We often make leaps of faith in the course of our life; for example, we decide to move to a distant state confident that we will find a better job, we accept a marriage proposal confident that the love will last, we send the children to school confident that they will be safe... In just the same way, following Jesus often takes a leap of faith, from believing he is present to us, to confidence that we can continue his works. When we are faithful, no trouble or anxiety can swerve us from the way to the Father through Jesus.

We know who God is because we have come to know who Jesus is; we know who Jesus is because we have seen him in the works done by those who believe in him. The revelation of who God is begun in the incarnation of Jesus, continues in the incarnation of Jesus' works of love, mercy, healing, reconciliation, justice, peace in the lives of his faithful followers. We know the way to the Father because we see these faithful followers walking that way, and we choose to walk with them.

To be an Easter people means that we are open to the Holy Spirit within us who empowers us to do the works of Jesus. We are empowered to forgive those who have hurt us, to lift up the lives of the poor and suffering, to work for peace and justice, to encourage each other in difficult times. Although the way is not always easy, and we will meet challenges as did Jesus, we know we do not walk alone. When we are faithful, no trouble or anxiety can swerve us from the way to the Father through Jesus.

-Year of the Eucharist-

What are the main books used at Mass?

- The book placed on the altar as Mass begins is the Book of the Gospels and it is used for the proclamation of the Gospel.

- The Book at the ambo is the Lectionary and is used for the readings.

(The Book of the Gospels and Lectionary are used for the first part of the Mass called: the Liturgy of the Word.)

- The other book used at Mass is the Sacramentary. This book is used by the priest for the Mass prayers and blessings and during the consecration at the altar.
